CHALLENGE

Men face many health challenges. From drinking and smoking to overeating and taking unnecessary risks, a man's lifestyle tends to be substantially healthier than a woman's. Such a lifestyle can lead to high blood cholesterol and high blood pressure, which in turn can also lead to heart disease and stroke. In fact, heart disease is the number one cause of death of American men, while stroke is the third leading cause of death. Men must also contend with possible prostate enlargement that can affect urinary flow.

Fortunately, there are steps that men can take to help maintain good health. Eating a diet low in fat and cholesterol, exercising regularly, maintaining a healthy weight and dietary supplementation are active steps men can take to promote overall health.

SCIENTIFIC SUPPORT OF THE INGREDIENTS IN THE SHAKLEE MEN'S HEALTH PACK

▪ Saw Palmetto Berry Extract

– For centuries, the aborigines of Florida consumed saw palmetto fruit. It eventually became a staple food in the diets of native Americans in the Southeastern states. The Indian medicine men also used saw palmetto to treat the prostate and as a general tonic to nourish the body.

▪ Omega-3 Fatty Acids — eicosapentaenoic acid (EPA) and docosahexaenoic acid (DHA)

– Polyunsaturated fats, specifically the omega-3s, were first recognized as important to human health in the 1970s. Scientists discovered that the Inuit Eskimos of Greenland had a diet that was very high in fat, yet they suffered far fewer chronic diseases such as coronary heart disease. Further study revealed that their diet of whale, seal, and salmon provided benefits that reduce the risk of such disease.
